

Biobanks want to engage patients

From Sep 13 to 16, 2016 the Europe Biobank Week – one of the biggest biobanking conferences - took place in Vienna. One of the key topics was patient engagement in biobanking.

Kurt Zatloukal, BBMRI.at National Node Director and Pathologist at the Medical University of Graz) in interview with the journal Medical Tribune on "why patient engagement and data management are important for research"

Read article \(Medical Tribune, Sep 14, 2016\) >>

Photo in news overview from (C) Berhard Bergmann