

SPIDIA4P project receives 5th award: Standards+Innovation Awards 2021

The EU Horizon 2020 project SPIDIAP received another award: the Standards+Innovation Awards 2021. CEN president Vincent LAFLECHE "virtually" handed it over to SPIDIA4P coordinator Dr. Uwe Oelmueller during the life-streamed ceremony on 5 Oct 2021.

BBMRI.at partner Med Uni Graz was a member of SPIDIA4P and was leading the WP3 on communication and dissemination and the generation of two pre-analytical standards: ISO 20166-4 FFPE tissue - in situ detection techniques and CEN/TS 17626 human specimens for - microbiome DNA pre-examination processes.

For SPIDIA4P, which has just reached its project end, this is the 5th award in addition to

- 2016: DIN 2nd Award for Use of new standards
- 2017: DIN Golden Needle Award for Dr. Uwe Oelmueller
- 2019: „Standards + Innovation Award Technical Body
- 2019: SPIDIA4P chosen by the EU as one of 3 success stories and published on EU Standardization Fact Sheet link

.. more about SPIDIA4P

... more about the award \(at CEN/CENELEC\)

Standard+Innovation Award 2021

CEN president Vincent LAFLECHE announced SPIDIA4P as winner of the "Project Award 2021"

Interview with Dr. Uwe Oelmueller, coordinator of SPIDIA4P.

Keynote speech by Sabine HERLITSCHKA, CEO of Infineon Technologies Austria