Relevance of reference materials and standardization

A topic at the 35th European Congress of Pathology - presented by BBMRI.at Director
Nov 23

The 35th European Congress of Pathology took place in Dublin in September 2023 as a hybrid event and attracted an international audience of over 4,400 participants from 94 countries. At this event, BBMRI.at Director Kurt Zatloukal talked about the central role of reference materials in the context of standardization. His presentation was well attended, which showed the great interest in the topic and the need for discussion. The presentation can be downloaded via the link below.
